It is high and dry, requiring little or no embanking to keep out the Salt Water, and a considerable portion of it would appear to have been at one time cleared of jungle. An abundance of large Soondree timber might be procured from this allot ment, and from its proximity to a district already cultivated, fresh water at all times of the year might be obtained without difficulty. From its situation and capabilities, the land of this allotment offers many advantages to speculaters.

THE 3D OCTOBER, 1838.

It has been brought to the notice of the Hon'ble the President in Council, that Mails have been stopped and detained in transit by public Officers in the Mofussil when encamped at places in the interior of Districts through which the Dawk travels in order that the bags may be opened and the letters addressed to them taken out. This practice is directly in violation of Article XLIX. of the Regulations for the Post Office Department, published by the Governor General in Council on the 30th of August 1837, and the President in Council in repeating the prohibition therein contained against any Officers of Government whatsoever, detaining and opening the Public Mails except under the order of Government, directs that every contravention of this rule shall be reported to him through the Post Master General, when the Officer guilty of such an impropriety will be visited with the severe displeasure of the Government.

It has also been brought to the notice of the President in Council, that Mails have been detained through the runners being stopped while employed in their actual conveyance by Officers of Police on petty charges of misdemeanour being preferred against them. The Magistrates of the several Districts are hereby required and directed to restrain this practice, and to enjoin that no runner shall be arrested or detained on any petty charge while so employed.

The runners employed in carrying the Mails being all fixed Servants, any Process or Summons can at any time be served upon them at their Station, so that it can never be necessary to detain them while running with a Mail.

An abundance of large Scondrec timber engight be precured from this allotment, and from the proximity to a district already cultivated, fresh water at all times of the year might be obtained without difficulty. From its situation and capabilities, the land of this allotment offers many advantages to speculators. The like remarks apply modified in so far as this allotment is the south of the preceding one.

This allotment is situated on the Western bank of the Balissur river, opposite to the cultivated lands lately resumed from the possession of the Zemindars of Pergunoah Seyadpore. It is high and dry, requiring little or no embanking to keep out the Sait Water, and a considerable portion of it would appear to have been at one time-cleared of jungle. An abundance of large Soondree timber might be proquired from this allotment, and from its proximity to a district already cultivated, fresh water at all times of the year might be obtained without difficulty. From its altuation and capabilities, the land of this allotment offers many advantages to speculaters.

DECLARATION

ON THE PART OF THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

SIMLA, IST OCTOBER, 1838.

The Right Honorable the Governor General of India having, with the concurrence of the Supreme Council, directed the assemblage of a British Force for service across the Ladus, His Lordship deems it proper to publish the following exposition of the reasons which have led to this important measure.

It is a matter of notoriety that the Treatics entered into by the British Congrupper, in the year 1832.

It is a matter of notoricty that the Treatice entered into by the British Government in the year 1832, with the Ameers of Sinde, the Nawah of Bahawulpore, and Maha Raja Runjeet Singh, had for their object, by opening the navigation of the Indus, to facilitate the extension of commerce, and to gain for the British nation, in Central Asia, that legitimate influence which an interchange of benefits would naturally produce.

With a view to invite the aid of the de facto rulers of Afghanistan to the measures necessary for giving full effect to those Treaties, Captain Burnes was deputed, towards the close of the year 1836, on a mission to Dost Mahomed Khan, the Chief of Cabul. The original objects of that Officer's mission were purely of a commercial nature. Whilst Captain Burnes, however, was on his journey to Cabul, information was received by the Governor General that the Troops of Dost Mahomed Khan had made a sudden and unprovoked attack on those of our ancient Ally, Maha Raja Runjeet Singh. It was naturally to be apprehended that His Highness the Maha Raja would not be slow to venge this aggression, and it was to be feared that the flames of war being once kindled in the very regions into which we were endeavouring to extend our commerce, the peaceful and beneficial purposes of the British Government would be altogether frustrated. In order to avert a result so calamitous, the Governor General resolved on authorizing Captain Burnes to intimate to Dost Mahomed Khan, that, if he should evince a disposition to come to just and reasonable toward with the Maha Raja His Lordships would With a view to invite the aid of the de facto rulers intimate to Dost Mahomed Khan, that, if he should evince a disposition to come to just and reasonable terms with the Maha Raja, His Lordship would exert his good offices with His Highness for the restoration of an amicable understanding between the two Powers. The Maha Raja, with the characteristic confidence which he has uniformly placed in the faith and friendship of the British nation, at once assented to the proposition of the Governor General to the effect that, in the mean time, hostilities on his part should be suspended.

It subsequently came to the knowledge of the Governor General that a Persian Army was besieging Herat; that intrigues were actively prosecuted.

throughout Afghanistan for the purpose of extending Persian influence and authority to the banks of, and even beyond, the Indus; and that the Court of Persia had not only commenced a course of injury and insult to the Officers of Her Majesty's mission in the Persian territory, but had afforded evidence of being engaged in designs wholly at variance with the principles and objects of its alliance with Great Britain.

After push time event by Courtin Pushes in Court to the Officers of Her Majesty's mission in the Persian territory, but had afforded evidence of being engaged in designs wholly at variance with the principles and objects of its alliance with Great Britain.

After much time spent by Captain Burnes in fruitless negotiation at Cabul, it appeared that Dost Mahomed Khan, chiefly in consequence of his reliance upon Persian encouragement and assistance, persisted, as respected his misunderstanding with the Sikhs, in urging the most unreasonable pretensions, such as the Governor General could not, consistently with justice and his regard for the friendship of Maha Raja Runjeet Sing, he the channel of submitting to the consideration of His Highness; that he avowed schemes of aggrandizement and ambition, injurious to the security and peace of the frontiers of India; and that he openly threatened, in furtherance of those schemes, to call in every foreign aid which he could command. Ultimately he gave his undisguised support to the Persian designs in Afghanistan, of the unfriendly and injurious character of which, as concerned the British Power in India, he was well apprized, and by his utter disregard of the views and interests of the British Government, compelled Captain Burnes to leave Cabul without having effected any of the objects of his mission.

It was now evident that no further interference could be exercised by the British Government to bring about a good understanding between the Sikh Ruler and Dost Mahomed Khan, and the hostile policy of the latter Chief showed too plainly that, so long as Cabul remained under his Government, we could never hope that the tranquillity of our neighbourhood would be secured, or that the interests of our Indian Empire would be presenved inviolate.

The Governor General deems it in this place necessary to revert to the seige of Herat, and the conduct of the Persian nation. The slege of that city has now been carried on by the Persian Army for many months. The attack upon it was a most unjustifiable and cruel aggression, perpetrat

Governments. The necessity under which Great Britain is placed, of regarding the present advance of the Persian arms into Afghanistan as an act of hostility towards herself, has also been officially communicated to the Shah, under the express order of Her Majesty's Government.

The Chiefs of Candahar (Brothers of Dost Mahomed Khan of Cabul) have avowed their adherence to the Pers an policy, with the same fall knowledge of its opposition to the rights and interests of the British nation in India, and have been openly assisting in the operations against Herat.

In the crisis of affairs consequent upon the retire ment of our Envoy from Cabal, the Governor General felt the importance of taking immediate measures for arresting the rapid progress of foreign intrigue and aggression towards our own territories.

His attention was naturally drawn at this conjuncture aggression towards our own territories.

His attention was naturally drawn at this conjuncture to the position and claims of Shah Shooja-ool-Moolk, a monarch who, when in power, had cordially acceded to the measures of united resistance to external enmity, which were at that time judged necessary by the British Government, and who, on his Empire being usurped by its present Rulers, had found an honorable asylum in the British dominions.

It had been clearly a scertained, from the information furnished by the various Officers who have visited Afghanistan, that the Barnkeye Chiefs, from their disunion and unpopularity, were ill-fitted, under any circumstances, to be useful Allies to the British Government, and to aid us in our just and necessary measures of na-stances, to be useful Allies to the British Government, and to aid as in our just and necessary measures of national defence. Yet so long as they retrained from proceedings injurious to our interest and security, the British Government acknowledged and respected their authority. But a different policy appeared to be now more than justified by the conduct of those Chiefs, and to be indispensable to our own safety. The welfare of our possessions in the Last requires that we should have on our Western Frontier, an Ally who is interested in resisting aggression, and establishing tranquilifity, in the place of Chiefs ranging themselves in subservience to a hostile Power, and seeking to promote schemes of conquest and aggrandizement.

After a serious and mature deliberation, the Gover-

After a serious and mature deliberation, the Gover-After a serious and mature deliberation, the Covernor Gonoral was satisfied that a pressing necessity, as well as every consideration of policy and justice, warranted us in espousing the cause of Shah Shooja-nol-Moolk, whose popularity throughout Afghanistan had been proved to His Lordship by the strong and unanimous testimony of the best authorities. Having arrived at this description, the foregoner formers are nimous testimony of the best authorities. Having arrived at this determination, the Governor General was further of opinion, that it was just and proper, no less from the position of Maha Roja Runjeet Singh, than from his undeviating friendship towards the British Government that His Highness should have the offer of becoming party to the contemplates operations. Mr. Machaghten was accordingly deputed in June last to the Court of His Highness, and the result of his mission has been the conclusion of a Tripartite Treaty by the British Government, the Maha Raja, and Shah Shooja-ool-Moolk, whereby His Highness is guaranteed in his present possessions, and has bound himself to co-operate for the restoration of the Shah to the throne of his ancestors. The friends and enemies of any one of the contracting parties have been declared throne of his ancestors. The friends and enemies of any one of the contracting parties have been declared to be the friends and enemies of all. Various points have been adjusted, which had been the subjects of discussion between the British Government and His Highness the Maha Raja, the identity of whose interests with those of the Honorable Company has now been made apparent to all the surrounding States. A guaranteed independence will, upon favourable conditions, be tendered to the Ameers of Sinde; and the integrity of Herat, in the possession of its present Raier, will be fully respected; while by the measures.

completed, or in progress, it may reasonably be hoped that the general freedom and security of commerce will be promoted; that the name and just influence of will be promoted; that the name and just influence of the British Government will gain their proper footing among the nations of Central Asia; that any illity will be established upon the most important in circor India; and that a lasting barrier will be raise against hostile intrigue and encroachment.

His Majesty Shah Shooja-ool-Moolk will enter Afghanistau, surrounded by his own troops, and will be supported against foreign interference and factious opposition by a British Army. The Governor Geography be supported against foreign interference and factious opposition by a British Army. The Governor General confidently hopes that the Shah will be speedily replaced on his throne by his own subjects and adherents, and when once he shall be secured in power, and the independence and integrity of Aighanistan established, the British Army will be withdrawn. The Governor General has been led to these measures by the duty which is imposed upon him of providing for the security of the possessions of the British Crown; but he rejoices that, in the discharge of this duty, he will be enabled to assist in restoring the union and prosperity of the Afghan people. Throughout the approaching operations, British influence will be sedulously employed to further every measure out the approaching operations, British influence will be schulously employed to further every measure of general benefit; to reconcile differences; to secure oblivion of injuries; and to put-an end to the distractions by which, for so many years, the welfare and happiness of the Afghans have been impaired. Even to the Chiefs, whose hostile proceedings have given just cause of offence to the British Government, it will seek to secure liberal and honorable treatment, on their tendering early submission, and coasing from on their tendering early submission, and ceasing from opposition to that course of measures, which may be judged the most suitable for the general advantage of their country.

sons which have led to this important measure.

It is a matter of notoriety that the Treaties entered It is a matter of notoriety that the I reaties entered into by the British Government in the year 1892, with the Ameers of Sinde, the Nawab of Bahawulpore, and Maha Raja Runjeet Singh, had for their object, by opening the navigation of the Indus, to facilitate the extension of commerce, and to gain for the British nation, in Central Asia, that legitimate influence which an interchange of benefits would naturally produce.

with a view to invite the aid of the a facto rulers of Afghanistan to the measures necessary for giving full effect to those Treaties, Captain Burnes was deputed, towards the close of the year 1836, on a mission to Dort Mahomed Khan, the Chief of Cabul. The original objects of that Officer's mission were purely of a commercial nature. Whilst Captain Burnes, however, were on his journey to Cabul, information was received by the Governor General that the Toops of Dost Mahomed Khan and indee a sudden subsupervoked aftack on those of our ancient. The Maha Raja Ranged Sing. It was naturally to be apprehonded that His Highwess the Maha Raja would not be slow to stong this appreading and it was to be feared that the Rails of war being once kindled in the very regions into which we were endeavouring to extend our commerce, the peaceful and beneficial purposes of the British Government would be altogether frustrated. In order to avert a result so catamitous, the Governor General resolved on authorizing Capitala Eurnes to intimate to Doest Mahomed Kham that, if he should evince a disposition to come to just and reasonable terms with the Maha Raja, His Lordship would except his good effices with His Highness for the restoration of an amicable understanding between the two Powers. The Maha Raja, with the characteristic confidence which he has uniformly placed in the faith and friendship of the British nation, at once assented to the proposition of the Governor General to the effect that, he the mean time, hostilities on his part should be suspended.

It subsequently came to the knowledge of the Governor General that a Persian Army was besieging Herat; that Intrigues were actively prosecuted throughout Afglanistan for the purpose of extending Persian influence and authority to the banks of, and even beyond, the Indus; and that the Court of Persia had not only commenced a course of injury and insult to the Officers of Her Majesty's mission in the Persian territory, but had afforded evidence of being engaged in designs wholly at variance with the principles and objects of its alliance with Great Britain.

After much time spen by Capitaln Burness in fruitless negotiation at Cabul, it appeared that Dos Mahomed Khan chiefly in consequence of his reliance upon Persian encouragement and assistance, persisted, as respected his misunderstanding with the Sikhe, in arging the most unreasonable pretensions, such as the Governor General could not, consistently with justice and his regard for the friendship of Maha Raja Raujeet Sing, be the channel of submitting to the security and peace of the frontiers of India; and that he openly threatened, in furtherance of those schemes, to call in every foreign aid which he could capital Burnes to feave Cabul without having effected any of the o of its opposition to the rights and interests of the British nation in India, and have been openly assisting in the operations against Herat.

In the crisis of affairs consequent upons the retirement of our Envoy from Cabul, the Governor General felt the importance of taking immediate measures for arresting the apid progress of foreign larrigue and aggression towards our own territories.

His attention was naturally drawn at this conjuncture to the position and claims of Shah Shoqia-ool-Moolk, a monarch who, when in power, had cordially acceded to the measures of united resistance to external enmity, which were at that time judged necessary by the British Government, and who, on his Empire being usurped by its present Rulers, had found an honorable asylum in the British dominions.

It had been clearly ascertained, from the information furnished by the various Officers who have visited Afhanistan, that the Barukzye Chiefs, from their disunion and unpopularity, were ill-fitted, under any circumstances, to be useful Allies to the British Government, and to aid us in our just and necessary measures of national defence. Yet so long as they refrained from proceedings injutions to our interest and security, the British Government acknowledged and respected their authority. But a different policy appeared to be now more than justified by the conduct of those Chiefs, and to be indispensable to our own safety. The welfare of our possessions in the East requires that we should have on our Western Frontier, an Ally who is interested in resisting aggression, and establishing tranquilly, in the place of Chiefs ranging themselves in subservience to a hostile Power, and seeking the subservience to a hostile Power, and seeking the subservience to the Schrieb and gramalizament.

After a serious and mature deliberation, the Governor General was satisfied that a pressing necessity, as well as every consideration of policy and justice, warrived at this determination, the Governor General was subsequently and the security of the pol distractions by which, for so many years, the welfare and happiness of the Afghans have been impaired. Even to the Chiefs, whose hostile proceedings have given just cause of offence to the British Government, it will seek to secure liberal and honorable treatment, on their tendering early submission, and ceasing from opposition to that course of measures, which may be judged the most suitable for the general advantage of their country.

By order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India,

W. H. MACNAGHTEN.

Secy, to the Govt. of India, with the Govr. Genl.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undermentioned Two Allotments of Sounderburn' Forest Land, Decreed in favor of Government by the Presidency Special Commissioner, on the 24th July, 1837, can be obtained on the usual Jungle-boorce terms, upon application being made at the Office of the Commissioner of the Sounderburns, at Allipore.

Name of Allotment.	Supposed area.	Boundaries.	Remarks.
Khowlecah Barrisaul.	70,000	North, the Pangachee tiver, the Barweekhalee Khal, and the Jewdhoora river.—East, the Balissur river.—West, the Bholah river.—South, the Cheeps, Barweekhalee, and Kumarkhalee Khals.	This allotment is situated on the Western bank of the Balissur river, opposite to the continued lands lately resumed from the possession of the Zemindars of Pergunnah Seyadpore. It is high and dry, requiring little or no embanking to keep out the Salt Water, and a considerable portion of it would appear to have been at one time cleared of jungle. An abundance of large Soundree timber might be procured from this allotment, and from its proximity to a district already cultivated, fresh water at all times of the year might be obtained without difficulty. From its situation and onpabilities, the land of this allotment offers many advantages to speculators.
